DR. DAILEY IS MARRIED AND WAS MAKING ARRANGEMENTS TO MARRY MRS. KEEFER, WHO ALSO IS MARRIED

"Dr." John M. Dailey, arrested here December 12 and now in the city jail serving a fifty-day sentence as a confessed confidence man, was preparing to add bigamy to his crimes when apprehended.

Peculiarly, too, his intended bigamous bride—pretty Lucile Keefe, who arrived here from Reno, Nev., the day after "Dr." Dailey was locked up to become his bride—also was about to violate the statutes, in that she, too, had failed to obtain a divorce decree. Both admitted they intended to get married in this city immediately upon Mrs. Keefe's arrival.

Information showing Dailey to have a wife, now residing in Sacramento, was received here today by Sergt. O. H. Mohlman in the shape of a letter written by the Sacramento woman to Police Chief Hillhouse of Reno. Chief Hillhouse also wrote that Mrs. Keefe had been in Reno for about a year, that she had filed suit for divorce on the grounds of failure to support, but that the petition had been dismissed in the promise of her husband to reform and take care of his wife and two children.

Mrs. Dailey's letter, written to the police authorities at Reno, was pitiful. It was written at the Trow hotel in that city and dated November 27. She stated that Dailey was "selling" rights for the magnetic metal polish and had left for Reno three weeks previous to the time she was writing.

ONE HUNDRED FORTY QUESTIONNAIRES SENT OUT

Another 140 questionnaires were mailed today by the city exemption board and the county board sent its customary 36 to registrants of its district. The county legal advisory board's office in the First National bank building is being visited daily by many registrants and the work of filling the blanks is progressing satisfactorily. The city schedule for this evening and tomorrow follows:

W. R. Skeen, 827 Eccles building, 12:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Farr & Sullivan, 825 Eccles building, 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Friday, December 21.

W. H. Reeder, Jr., 629 Eccles building, 8:30 to 12:30 a. m.

Arthur Woolley, 625 Eccles building, 12:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Samuel C. Powell, 605 Eccles building, 7:30 to 9 p. m.

R. H. Baumunk, 825 Eccles building, 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Questionnaires were mailed today to the following registrants of the city district:

Walter Ernest Davis, Howard J. Lee, Harold A. Johnson, Everett W. Hulstetter, Lloyd K. Nining, Thomas A. Wells, Jack Lawlis, Eddie Boyd, Charles E. Noble, John F. Cude, Philip Vasilis, Ernest E. Rounds, Raymond Allison, Heber J. Bateman, Harvey E. Holland, Frank Chase, Edmund

She also stated that the rent for her room was overdue, that she was ill and that she had received no message, not to mention money, from her husband. She asked that the police inquire about him. "I am afraid something has happened to him," the letter concludes. She had written Dailey two letters but had received no reply.

The Reno police state they were unable to locate Dailey. He apparently stayed in Reno only the five weeks, during which time Mrs. Keefe stated she met him, was wooed and promised to become his bride. He had sent Mrs. Keefe $70 during the week prior to his arrest—the proceeds from the sale of his receipt for the metal polish for which he was arrested and convicted.

Dailey has not been confronted with the letter from his Sacramento wife by the local police. No prosecutions will follow in that bigamy was not actually committed.

The police also will undertake to locate Mrs. Keefe, who declared the day of Dailey's conviction that "she would wait until he is released and then marry him." It is understood that she is working at a local rooming house and restaurant. They will make a canvass of the rooming houses to-night or tomorrow. There is a probability that Mrs. Keefe was acting sincerely upon the mistaken theory that the dismissal of her suit gave her a decree—also there is a possibility that she knew better.

There is a large colony of Ogden people in Los Angeles and lately many of the former residents met with the Utah society and had an enjoyable program, a report of which, appearing in the Los Angeles paper, follows:

The Utah society placed another fine program before its people for the November meeting. President Rapp with his customary urbanity and the audience sang America as the opening number with Miss Alice Stahr at the piano. Miss Stahr delighted all with her vocal solo accompanied by Miss Hazel Hawley. She was warmly applauded but was unable to respond as she had but one number with her. President Rapp excused her with the promise of appearing at some future meeting.

Miss Hallie Weikert was fine in "The One Legged Goose" by Smith and later following the patriotic address she gave "The Spirit of '76," a number especially appropriate to the speech and the occasion.

Hon. H. G. Redwine gave a strong address in a forceful way along patriotic lines.

President Rapp spoke in commendation of the address which was received with hearty applause.

Refreshments were served and a jolly social hour enjoyed. An unusually large proportion of the attendance was made up of Ogden people, the best known of whom was Dr. A. S. Condon who is here for the winter, and probably for life. Many old friends greeted the doctor and a real Ogden reunion and reception was held.

The December meeting of the Utah society will be omitted as it would come on Christmas eve and people will be too busy preparing for the Holiday to attend.

The January meeting will be held here, the fourth Monday evening. All former residents of Utah will be expected to be present to give greeting to the tourists who will be here by the time the Utah register may be seen at the office of the Federation of State societies, California Savings Bank, Fourth and Spring streets.

TREES ARE BUDDING AND EVEN GRAIN IS HEADING OUT DURING THE SPRING-LIKE WEATHER

Ogden and vicinity has developed and is enjoying an atmospheric condition that puts the much boasted California climate in one of the corners at the extreme rear.

As a result of the almost unprecedented mildness during the fall and winter, seasonal changes apparently are in progress—Spring-time is appearing several months ahead of schedule old man Winter, with his whisks and fur coats, seems to have deferred his trip this year.

It was reported on the streets today that peach trees are budding in one North Ogden orchard. The rumor could not be verified. It is fact, however, that lilac bushes in the city hall square, are budding. Also that oats, growing along the mountain sides near the cemetery, are beginning to head out. City officials have been flooding the streets and racking the parkings and birds have been singing and children playing in genuine spring-time fashion throughout the fall.

According to unofficial statistics, a similar winter occurred along in 1906. Throughout the period the mercury maintained a high average. Boys didn't go barefooted all winter, but it was unusually mild. Last winter, fall of 1916, winter began Oct. 15—it overlapped spring and extended into summer.

It is a superstition in some sections that, if fruit trees bud in the fall, calamity is enroute. This, say the annals of superstition, invariably happens when cherry trees blossom during the winter months, and death enters the home of cherry tree owners. It is stated by the scoffers that if the superstition attended any other variety of tree than the cherry, it might be dependable, but too many tales are told of the cherry tree for all to receive serious consideration.

ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS IN NORTHERN ITALY, Wednesday, Dec. 19.—(By the Associated Press).—The enemy's heavy guns already have the range beyond Bassano, which lies on the Venetian plain near the entrance to the Brenta valley and while the city itself has not been shelled, occasional shells have fallen in the outskirts and some have passed over the city to the suburbs beyond.

The reports show that the enemy is employing seventeen divisions in his operations between the Brenta and the Piave rivers. Of these six are certainly and nine probably German. Deserters who come in say the Germans declare they will be in the plain by the holidays as they are strong in their desire to get down from the mountain heights before the hardships of winter set in.

Five different attempts to cross the old Piave near its mouth indicate that the enemy is adopting the plan of striking the two extremities of the line with the purpose of bending one or the other back on the center.

State officials say there are more miners employed in Pennsylvania industry now than for years.

FRANK PROUTY CASE IS BEING HEARD

The case of the city against Frank Prouty, manager of the Weber hotel, charged with violating the liquor laws December 3, was called Tuesday by Judge George S. Barker of the municipal court. It required a day to qualify a trial jury; testimony was begun yesterday, and it is doubtful whether the lawyers will have completed their arguments and the jurors received their instructions when court adjourns tonight.

Police sergeants, city detectives and uniformed officers are the chief witnesses for the state. The attorney's table is littered with classy brands of bottled goods from half pints to quart. The defendant, a fine looking, prosperous hotel man, is the defendant. He wears an Elk's pin and a big diamond ring.

A. G. Horn is counsel for Prouty.
